Anromyr Allende
How can one be so mischievous, and yet still graduate.

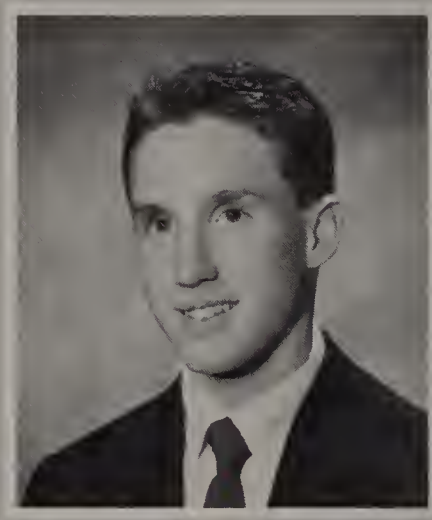

Belkis Alvarado
Life is like a game one should always know how to play and win, but if you don't. Hey! Life goes on Good luck in your future '92.

Elizabeth Alvarado
Hey, life isn't all that easy, but nothing is impossible if you strive for the best! Go For It!

Juan Amador
Graduation is a challenge we can all achieve, with a bit of hard work we can all succeed

Stephen Apperti
Life is a tragedy for those who feel, but a comedy for those who think.

Judith Aquino
Chance and growth take place when a person has risked himself and dares to become involved with experimenting with his own life.

Kaliope Azzi
There are three types of people in this world- those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those that wonder what the hell just happened.

Aida L. Baez
The best success is usually the one you risk the most to achieve. Always Smile.

Angelia Baez
I have reached my goals, Thank God. I'm glad I'm out of school.

Jenny Balbuena
With God above us and his arms beneath us we can face anything that comes before us.

Jose R. Balbuena
Finally, I made it. You never thought I could do it.

Charlotte A. Ball
Without my sense of humor I doubt I'd have much sense at all.

Ruben Barrio
Each one must reach one, Each one must teach one. Peace!

Emely Bayron
Those who work hard and take school seriously survive and succeed. But those who take school as a joke must work hard or they fail.

Amy Beliveau
We the class of '92 are glad we're through. But now we must pursue so that our dreams come true.

Amy Berberian
I look and see it's not only me. So many others have stood where I stand. We are the young so raise your hands.

Melanie Bradish
Half of getting what you want is knowing what you must give up to get it.

Chad Brown

Jamiel K. Brown
The courage to speak must be matched by the wisdom to listen.

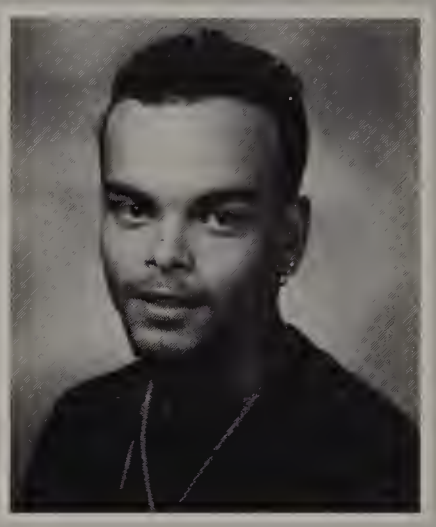

Constantino Burgos
I'm a good student. I'm interested in going to college. I established the L.H.S. record on the track team-3.1 miles in 17 minutes-in 1991.

Ana F. Campos
This is not a black and white world to be alive I say the colors must swirl and I believe that maybe today we will all get to appreciate the beauty of gray.

Dora Caraballo
Treat your friends as you do your pictures, and place them in their best light.

Jesus Caraballo
I-C-U- Looking. So what are you saying? I made it. Good luck! Class of '92

Maydelin Castillo
In a world full of obstacles and prejudice it is difficult to reach your goals, and once you've reach them never forget where you came from. Peace

Ivelisse Castro
Que triunfen y que lleguen a ser lo que quieran ser.

Mark Cerullo
As I grow to understand life less and less, I live it more and more.

David Charest
Life is a series of hellos and goodbyes, I'm afraid it's time for goodbye again.- B. Joel

In Memory Of Robert Frost

The Pasture

I'm going out to clean the pasture spring;
I'll only stop to rake the leaves away
(And watch the water clear, I may):
I sha'n't be gone long.-You come too.

I'm going out to fetch the little calf
That's standing by its mother. It's so young
It totters when she licks it with her tongue.
I sha'n't be gone long.-You come too.

—Robert Frost
Lawrence High's
Class of 1892

Robert Frost offers to us a sincere & gentle invitation in his poem The Pasture. He invites us to further explore his poetry and therefore, further explore ourselves. By delving into his poetry, as well as into our hearts, we may find those messages which inspire us, encourage us, or reveal to us some unexpected, but perhaps welcomed, truths. A graduate of Lawrence High, he went on to become one of the most well known, and well loved, of all poets. His poetry speaks of New England, of its timeless natural beauty, its people, and the spirit of the people that inhabit this region.

Robert Frost moved from California to Lawrence, Massachusetts when he was eleven years old. He graduated from Lawrence High School as co-valedictorian in 1892 with Elinor White, whom he later married. He then attended both Dartmouth College and Harvard, though he never got a degree from either. He also attempted at various other enterprises, such as running a farm in near-by Derry, New Hampshire. His first book of poetry, A Boy's Will, which was published in 1912 was rrecieved favorably. His next book, North of Boston, was even more of a success. Though his later years were plagued with many personal tragedies, such as the suicide of his son, he contiued to flourish as the New England poet who spoke truth through the kindly and deliberate perspective of his created alter ego.

"The woods are lovely, dark, and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep."

Robert Frost, a graduate of Lawrence High, left the world an everlasting gift before he slept his final sleep in 1963. He shall endure. Lawrence High's Class of 1992 shall endure. May all your sleeps be peaceful ones, and may your waking be filled with joy, succcess, and those truths which can be found only inside yourselves.

100 years later his memory lives on at L.H.S.

A Definition of Success . . .

To laugh often and much;
To win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children,
To earn the appreciation of honest critics
and endure the betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty,
To find the best in others,
To leave the world a bit better
whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch,
or a redeemed social condition;
To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
This is to have succeeded.

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Ready, Set, ... Go!

To know the joy of living
is to know life's worthwhile things;
The satisfaction of work well done,
the joy that friendship brings...
It's counting up a lifetime,
not by the years we've spent,
But by our store of memories
and by our hearts' content.

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

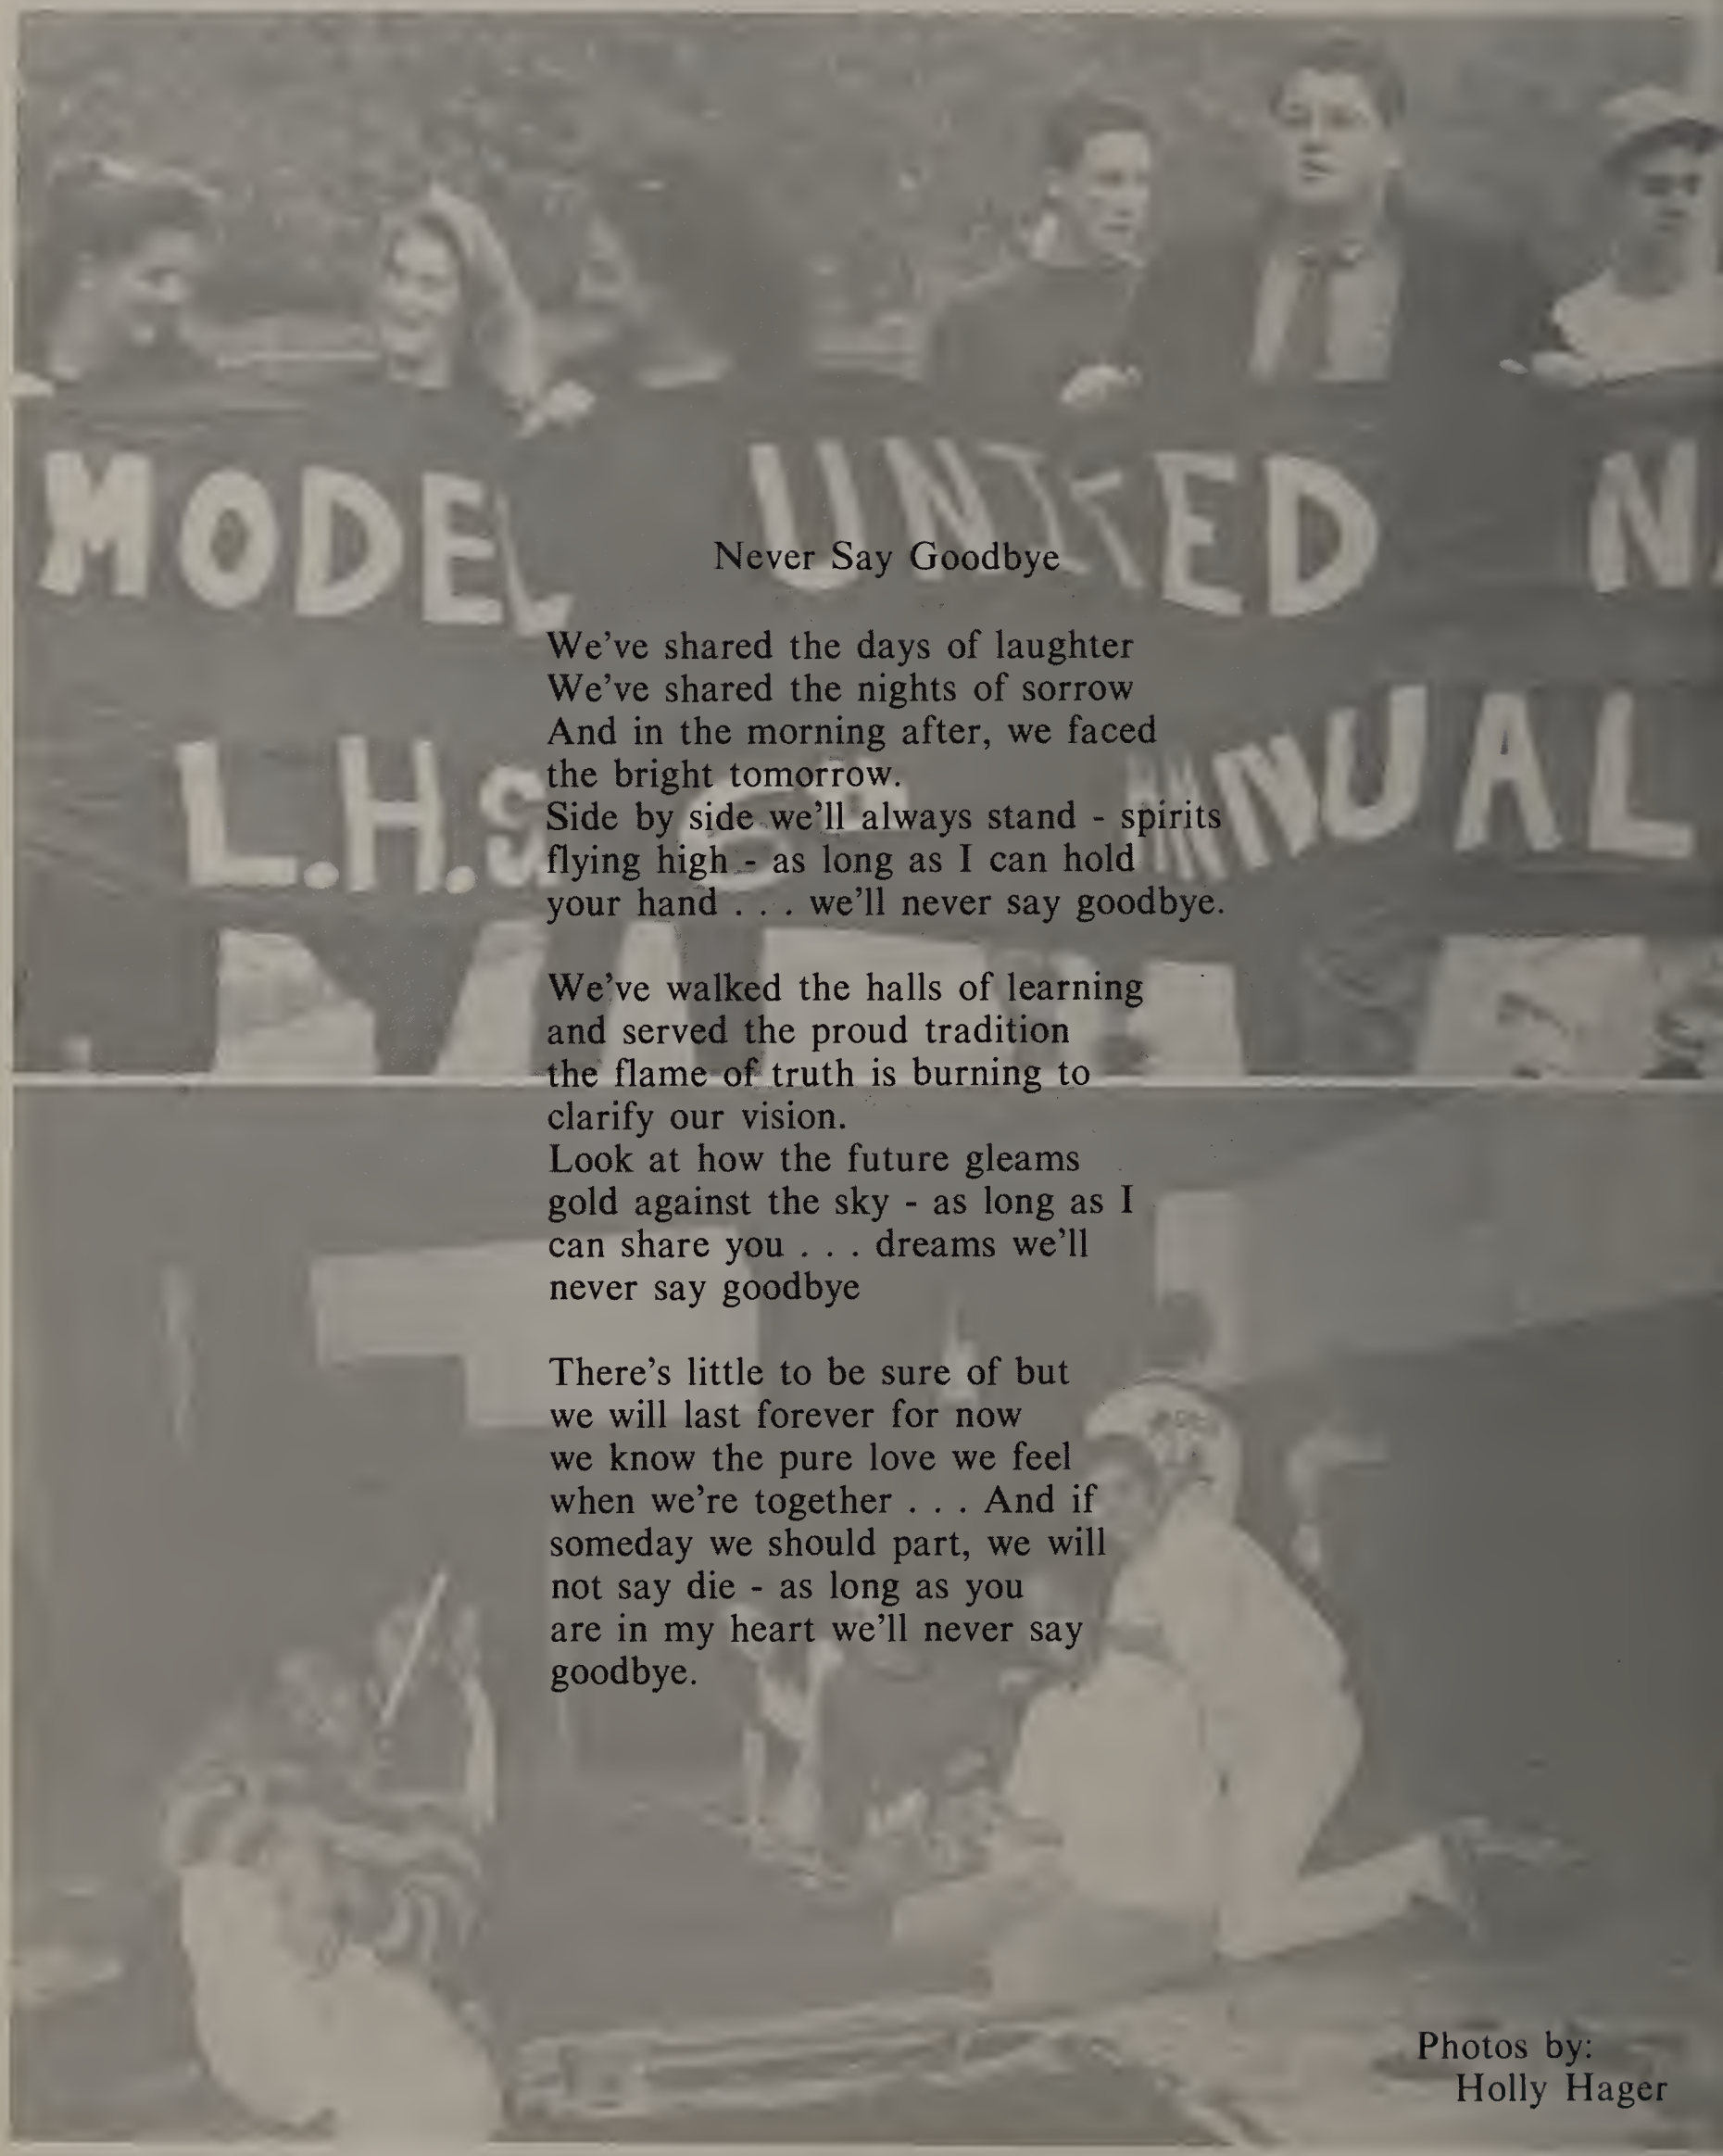

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I -
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

- Robert Frost

Never Say Goodbye

We've shared the days of laughter
We've shared the nights of sorrow
And in the morning after, we faced the bright tomorrow.
Side by side we'll always stand - spirits flying high - as long as I can hold your hand . . . we'll never say goodbye.

We've walked the halls of learning and served the proud tradition the flame of truth is burning to clarify our vision.
Look at how the future gleams gold against the sky - as long as I can share you . . . dreams we'll
never say goodbye

There's little to be sure of but we will last forever for now we know the pure love we feel when we're together . . . And if someday we should part, we will not say die - as long as you are in my heart we'll never say goodbye.

This past year the students at Lawrence High have overcome many obstacles. Through accredidation, Operation Take Back, and our own problems at home.

What makes the class of nineteen ninety two special is that we did all of these things together. The friendships we began as freshmen have been carried throughout our senior year. We've laughed and cried together, we've passed and failed together, we've won and lost together but the most important thing is we always had someone to lean on in times of pain and through times of joy. We proved that working together as a class for a common goal of graduating we could make anything possible.

The pride we feel walking down the halls of Lawrence High School is proven by winning the blue and white award for the 4 years we've been here. The class of nineteen ninety two realizes the importance of participating in school functions and standing behind our sports teams. Every Saturday we spent at a football game, in doors at a track and field event or at the auditorium supporting the drama club our pride was displayed if someone were to describe the class of nineteen ninety two in one word it would be friends.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank our advisor Mrs. Parthum and our submaster Mr. Parthum. You have been our support, our guide, and most importantly our friend. With your hard work and dedication you made the class of ninety two strive for excellence. We will never forget how you've helped us through four years. You will remain in our hearts and minds forever.
